

2024–25 Manchester United F.C. season

The 2024–25 season is the 138th in the history of Manchester United, their 33rd season in the Premier League and their 50th consecutive and 100th overall season in the top flight of English football. The club is participating in the Premier League, the FA Cup, the EFL Cup, the UEFA Europa League and the Community Shield. The season is the first full season since 2004–05 in which the Glazer family no longer controls the footballing side of the club, having sold 27.7% of the club to Sir Jim Ratcliffe in February 2024.^[1]

Pre-season and friendlies

On 23 February 2024, United announced a tour of the United States, with friendly matches against rivals Arsenal and Liverpool at SoFi Stadium in Los Angeles on 27 July and at Williams–Brice Stadium in Columbia, South Carolina on 3 August, respectively.^[2] In March, they announced another game in the United States – against Real Betis on 31 July at Snapdragon Stadium in San Diego, a venue with which the club shares a sponsor.^[3] Ten days later Manchester United announced they would play Rangers for the first time in a decade at Murrayfield Stadium in Edinburgh on 20 July.^[4] The first match of their pre-season tour was announced on 5 April; they faced Norwegian side Rosenborg at Lerkendal Stadion in Trondheim on 15 July.^[5]

FA Community Shield

As a result of winning the 2023–24 FA Cup, Manchester United faced Manchester City, who won the 2023–24 Premier League, in what was United's 31st Community Shield appearance, and their first since 2016.^[6] After United took the lead late in the second-half through Alejandro Garnacho, City equalised through Bernardo Silva in the 88th minute, taking the game to penalties. André Onana saved City's first penalty from Silva, but Jadon Sancho's miss with United's fourth kick meant the shoot-out went to sudden death; Jonny Evans put United's eighth penalty over the bar, allowing Manuel Akanji to give City a 7–6 victory.^[7]

Premier League

Matches

The 2024–25 Premier League fixtures were released on 18 June 2024.^[8] Manchester United opened their Premier League campaign on 16 August 2024 with a 1–0 win over Fulham. Substitute and debutant Joshua Zirkzee scored the only goal of the match in the 87th minute.^[9] United then travelled to the Amex Stadium to take on Brighton & Hove Albion. Former United man Danny Welbeck opened the scoring in the 30th minute, capitalising on a defensive mistake. Amad Diallo then levelled the scores in the 61st minute, before United put the ball in the back of the net again through Alejandro Garnacho; however, replays showed that Zirkzee had accidentally tapped the ball into the net from an offside position while attempting to stand up, causing the goal to be ruled out. João Pedro then scored a late winner with an unmarked header at the backpost, condemning the Red Devils to a first league defeat of the season.

EFL Cup

As one of the English representatives in European competition in 2024–25, Manchester United will enter the EFL Cup in the third round, which will take place over two midweeks due to the extended European group stages. As United are in the Europa League, their tie will be played in the week commencing 16 September. None of the clubs involved in the Champions League or Europa League could be drawn against each other.^[13] United were drawn against Barnsley in the third round to set up a first meeting in 15 years.^[14]
